

Transport Technician

Position Summary:

- Entry level ALS position with great opportunities for educational growth and clinical advancement
- State of the art ambulances and equipment
- Under limited supervision, plans directs and evaluates total patient care and functions in the transport environment on a particular shift, in accordance with established corporate philosophy
- Relates effectively with other shifts for continuity of care; maintains satisfactory relations with referring and receiving departments and nursing units

Essential functions include:

- Provides the best possible patient care by planning, organizing and directing patient care during critical care interfacility transport
- Administers medications and intravenous solutions skillfully and correctly; supports and enforces infection control policies and procedures
- Evaluates the performance of personnel using the peer review process with recommendations for appropriate action
- Identifies problems and guides personnel to their solutions; maintains the standards of accurate and complete recording and reporting; maintains professional approach with confidentiality
- Participates in orientation, in-service training for personnel and program safety training

Education and Experience:

- Current PA Paramedic certification, NREMT-P preferred.
- One year experience performing ALS interfacility transport recommended (preferred)
- Current ACLS, PALS and appropriate trauma life support course certification
- Must have current medical command

Become part of the T3 team today!

For more information or to apply for this position, speak to the on-site recruiter or contact Janine Woodard at 215-707-2024 or janine.woodard@tuhs.temple.edu